Engage with International Educators Who Share Your Interests

One of the great strengths within the field of international education is a shared belief in the value of diversity and inclusion. Diversity and inclusion are celebrated with our 30+ Member Interest Groups (MIGs), founded by members wishing to explore some facet of their world with others. For years, NAFSAns have connected on topics of importance —whether based on the dimensions of their career, affinity for a region or country, and core aspects of their identity.

Member Interest Groups are:

- One of the most personal and welcoming ways to find your place in NAFSA.
- Open to all international educators interested in connecting and networking with colleagues who have similar interests.
- Communities that promote the sharing of information and experience among their members and with professional colleagues.

NAFSA Member Interest Groups

MIGs convene at the annual conference and offer resources and ongoing activities online, throughout the year! Connect and share an interest with others:

- in a country or region
- in similar professional or personal interests
- at the same type of institution.
