From the Conference Chair

International Education: No Longer Underground

Mark your calendars to join us at the Region VI Conference in Cincinnati, November 7-10, at the Hyatt Regency Hotel. Our theme, “International Education: No Longer Underground,” celebrates the movement of international education from “afterthought” to a more prominent position at US institutions.

The importance of international education is evidenced by the more than 70 sessions that will be offered at the conference. Session topics range from updates and new research, to best practices and roundtables, and will appeal to newcomers and seasoned professionals alike. (A list of sessions is listed on pages 28-29.)

Our special event, at Cincinnati’s National Underground Railroad Freedom Center, also relates closely to our theme. We hope that it will spark discussions about the role of international educators in preparing students to improve the human condition through global citizenship.

Susan A. Mboya will further explore this idea during her keynote address. Mboya founded the Zawadi Africa Education Fund (www.zawadiafrica.org) to provide academically gifted girls from disadvantaged backgrounds in Africa with scholarships to pursue higher education in the United States. Graduates of the program return to their communities to lobby for jobs, improved education, and enhanced healthcare.
As part of our region’s own efforts to improve the human condition, we will donate proceeds from this year’s silent auction to Cincinnati-based Cooperative for Education (www.coeduc.org). This non-profit organization works to break the cycle of poverty in Guatemala by providing textbooks and educational opportunities to under-privileged schoolchildren. Sincere thanks go to Kay Gunyon (University of Indianapolis) for leading this effort!

Finally, we are working to make your conference experience a “greener” one. From the registration process to conference clean up, our goal is to reduce the size of our carbon footprint on our host city.

Many thanks go to James Tenney (Local Arrangements co-Chair, University of Cincinnati), Lea Minniti (Local Arrangements co-Chair, Xavier University), and the team of local volunteers who have put in many hours to develop a first-class conference for you. Thanks also go to the Region VI team for their many contributions to the fall conference.

We look forward to seeing you in November –

Jodie

Greetings NAFSA Region VI members.

The NAFSA Leadership Team has planned yet another fantastic regional conference this November in Cincinnati, Ohio. Jodie Beatty, the Conference Chair, Lea Minitti and James Tenney, Local Arrangements Co-ordinators, have worked with a large team of volunteers, and the regional team to bring together an exciting professional development opportunity for those interested in the field of international education.

Professionals at every level of their career will find learning and networking opportunities at the Region VI 2009 Conference in Cincinnati. Newcomers are encouraged to attend the “First-Timers” orientation and breakfast meeting scheduled for Monday morning. (The breakfast is free, but you must pre-register). The orientation is designed to give newcomers an overview of the regional and national NAFSA organization and to give you a convenient way to network with peers.

For Mid-level international educators we are offering the “International Education Leadership Colloquium.” Don’t miss this opportunity to connect with colleagues and discuss topics of special interest to this group. Pre-registration is required.

As usual we have a wide array of regulatory affairs and concurrent sessions directed at professionals in all of our Knowledge Communities. (Many NAFSAns are very interested in knowing how the implementation of SEVIS II will impact our offices this coming academic year).

For those seeking intense training in an area within International Education, we are offering four immigration workshops, a study abroad workshop and a workshop on Academic Ethics Across Cultures. See pages 18-22 of this newsletter for more information about the CEPs offered this year.

Budgets are certainly tight this year, so Region VI will offer travel grants. Sometimes winning a grant can be justification enough to attend a conference. All Region VI grants offered are listed on pages 25-26 of this newsletter.

Who in the field of international education helped you get where you are today? Who have you admired for mentorship and passion for the field of international education? Do you know someone who is new to the field but who already shows great potential as an international educator? Please see the procedures for nominating fellow Region VI awardees on pages 23-24 of this newsletter.

I look forward to seeing each of you at the NAFSA Region VI Conference in Cincinnati November 7-10, 2009!

Jennifer Marinello
NAFSA Region VI Chair
From the Past Chair

“International Education, No Longer Underground” reflects the growing recognition in our country of the importance of international education and leadership, international programming, study abroad, international relations, and scholarly research in the development of our country and the world around us.

The field of international education has become increasingly sophisticated, challenging professionals with the responsibility of staying up-to-date on current research affecting practical application, best practices, and government policies and regulations. In addition to advocating for international education, NAFSA provides international educators with the practical tools and theoretical knowledge necessary to meet the challenges of this field, which is certainly no longer underground.

Your Region VI Leadership Team, under the sage guidance of Jennifer Marinello, this year’s Region VI Chair, Jennifer Beatty, the Conference Chair; James Tenney and Lea Minniti, Co-Local Arrangements Chairs; Damian Marshall, Development Chair; and other members of the Leadership Team have been working diligently all year to be able to offer you a state-of-the-art international education conference, filled with valuable information and opportunities to network with other professionals. You can help to make this regional conference experience even more valuable to yourself and your colleagues by volunteering to assist in some way. James and Lea will be looking for assistants to help prior to and throughout the conference. No prior experience is required for this wonderful opportunity to get a close-up look behind the scenes of how a great conference is managed while also contributing to the event.

I look forward to seeing you in Cincinnati!

Sue A. Miller
Past Chair, Region VI NAFSA
Susan Mboya, PhD, a native of Kenya, East Africa, is the General Manager of Coca-Cola South Africa. She formerly worked as the Global Marketing Director for Oral B Power Brushing at P&G in Cincinnati. After graduating from the University of Connecticut with a B.S. in Pharmacy, she then obtained her M.S. and Ph.D. in Industrial Pharmacy from the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy in Boston. She returned to East Africa after college to begin a career at P&G as a product development manager, and moved from Nairobi to Minneapolis to become Brand Manager on P&G’s customer marketing team for Target Stores.

Susan’s passion and commitment extend far beyond her professional experience of marketing and advertising – she is the founder of the Zawadi program (“Zawadi” means gift in Swahili), a college scholarship program that benefits young women with significant financial need. The Zawadi program saw its first student graduate Cum Laude in 2006 from Miami University.

The Zawadi Africa program is an initiative that promotes justice and equity through education and thus, aligns perfectly with NAFSA’s belief that “international education advances learning and scholarship, builds understanding and respect among different peoples, and enhances constructive leadership in the global community.”

MARK YOUR CALENDAR

Take advantage of the opportunity to expand your professional horizons at the Region VI conference in Cincinnati, November 7-10. Need more reasons to attend?

Great value – meaningful sessions presented by experts in the field, and an inspirational keynote speaker…the quality of a national conference at the cost of a regional conference

Great location – Cincinnati is centrally located, and offers a number of attractions to explore after a productive day of conferencing; special event at the National Underground Railroad Freedom Center

Great networking – this is the premier event for international educators in Region VI; networking opportunities abound: opening reception, special event, no-host dinners, luncheons, and coffee breaks

Great updates – among the 70 sessions offered at the conference will be the latest news from SEVP representatives…including information about SEVIS II

Great ideas – learn how others are doing more with less…and take these great ideas back to your home institution!

Visit the Region VI website for more details. Click on Conference for more information. See you in Cincy!

Silent Auction to Benefit Schoolchildren in Guatemala

It’s Silent Auction time again! This year’s beneficiary is Cooperative for Education. This Cincinnati-based, non-profit organization works to break the cycle of poverty in Guatemala by providing textbooks and educational opportunities to underprivileged schoolchildren. (www.coeduc.org).

Please look through your homes and offices for treasures – large and small – to donate. You can bring your donations to the registration or auction table as you arrive at the conference. And bring money—you’re going to want to do some serious bidding!

Receipts for tax purposes will be available for both donated items and monetary contributions.

Please direct any questions to the 2009 Silent Auction Coordinator, Kay Gunyon at kgunyon@uindy.edu or 317-788-3600.
CONFERENCE SPECIAL EVENT

This year’s special event will take place at the National Underground Railroad Freedom Center [http://www.freedomcenter.org/]. The Freedom Center sits on the bank of the Ohio River, literally the site where thousands of slaves crossed to freedom during the era of the Underground Railroad. Celebrate Cincinnati’s historic role in the Underground Railroad and explore contemporary examples of movement from injustice toward justice.

The mission of the Freedom Center is to “reveal stories about freedom’s heroes, from the era of the Underground Railroad to contemporary times, challenging and inspiring everyone to take courageous steps for freedom today.” As international educators, we have the opportunity and the responsibility to take steps toward freedom and justice through our work in building peaceful relationships through the promotion of intercultural understanding.

The special event will take place on Monday evening, November 9, from 7-10 pm, and will include tours of the exhibits with docents, appetizers, and three performances from the local band, “Baoku & The Image Afro-Beat Band.”

Cost for the special event is $10 for conference attendees and $20 for guests. Special event registration information is included with the general conference registration form in this newsletter or you can sign-up with your online conference registration.

STATE UPDATES

Greetings Hoosier NAFSAns,

It’s hard to believe that summer is over and another academic year is here again!

I would like to thank everyone who was involved in making the April 27th Indiana State Meeting at Purdue such a success. Since the 2010 Region VI conference is going to be in Indianapolis and last year’s state meeting was at Purdue, I’m proposing hosting the 2010 Indiana State Meeting in Bloomington in early May. If you would like to be involved on the planning committee or feel strongly about another location, please let me know. Also, it’s not too early to start thinking about proposal ideas. The state meeting is always a non-threatening way to try out presentation skills and explore topics further.

I am also accepting nominations for the 2009 George Hertrich Award to be presented at the Region VI Fall Conference in Cincinnati, OH in November. Nominees should be an active member of NAFSA, demonstrate a willingness to assist colleagues in the field, and advocate the cause of international education within his/her own institution as well as with the greater international education community. Nominations from Indiana NAFSAns should be submitted to me by October 1. A letter of support must accompany the nomination.

Finally, I am honored to step into a new role in Region VI, that of Chair-elect. This means that I will be leaving my role as Indiana State Representative in December, and will be seeking a replacement. Being a State Rep. is a great way to learn more about NAFSA in general, meet other international educators in the state and region, and to undertake a leadership role in NAFSA. It really is not that overwhelming. If you are interested in learning more about the position, please contact me. I’d be happy to answer any questions or tell you more about the duties of a NAFSA state representative. And if we hold the state meeting in Bloomington next spring, I’d be happy to help.

I can be reached at torahood@indiana.edu or by phone at 812-855-2614.

Thank you and I hope to see you in Cincinnati in November!

Tammy Orahood
Outgoing Indiana State Representative
Incoming Chair-elect, Region VI
Dear Ohio NAFSAn’s:

Time flies when you are having fun! It’s fall already and it’s hard to believe how the time has flown past this year. After a fun and informative State meeting in May and the National Conference, things seemed to have quieted down a bit for the summer for most of us. Up here in Cleveland, this summer has been cooler than the past few giving us a longer and thoroughly enjoyable blooming season. I hope it has been an enjoyable and restful summer for you as well.

As the school year kicks into gear again, we are all busy once again, turning the wheels in our offices, creating more opportunities to expose our students to international learning opportunities. While there isn’t too much new activity to report, there are a few things I wanted to keep you informed about.

First, be sure to register for our Regional Conference coming up in November this year. Cincinnati offers us Ohio NAFSAn’s an especially convenient location and as you will read elsewhere in this newsletter, the conference is slated to have a plethora of informative sessions as well.

Second, if your office has any special plans for International Education Week (Nov 16-20), please email me information about your events/activities to post on the Ohio page of the Region VI website. The Ohio page offers an opportunity to publicize your events and share ideas with other international educators in our state to expand our offering’s State wide even further. In fact, if you were unable to attend this year’s Ohio State Meeting, the Ohio page of the Region VI website now has many of the presentations offered at the state meeting available for your review as well.

Lastly, my term as Ohio State Rep ends in December 2009. It has been a pleasure to be of service to fellow international educators for the past two years. If you or anyone you know may be interested in volunteering in this role, please contact me for further information. I can be reached via email at jpleek@att.net or on the phone at 440-779-1710/440-364-2975.

Hope to see you at the Regional Conference.

Sincerely,

Natalie Leek
NAFSA Region 6 Ohio State Representative
To Kentucky NAFSAan’s

Approximately 50 international educators from across the Bluegrass State, as well as a couple of colleagues from Indiana and Ohio, attended the 2009 Kentucky State Meeting, which was held on Friday, 26th June, at Georgetown College. Participants learned about the latest immigration updates, heard from “seasoned professionals” about how they got into the field, and enjoyed a fantastic lunch (with a delectable Latin American flair) while discussing challenges for international education in a shrinking economy. Other sessions included an education abroad roundtable and a leadership training activity, as well as presentations on implementing a peer mentor program for international students, thinking outside the box on exchange agreements, and federal legislation affecting international education -specifically, the Simon Study Abroad Act and immigration reform.

I have enjoyed serving as the NAFSA Region VI Kentucky State Representative; so much so, that I volunteered for an optional third year!, but my term will end in December. If you are interested in becoming the next Kentucky State Rep, drop by the Region VI Leadership Team web page (http://www.region6.nafsa.org/leadership.html) to review the general team and state rep job descriptions. And, of course, feel free to contact me with questions.

KNOWLEDGE COMMUNITY UPDATES

Dear Colleagues,

As I write this article, it is hard for me to believe the beginning of another fall term is right around the corner. For me, this time of year not only signifies the commencement of a new academic year, but reminds me that the NAFSA Region VI Conference is only a few months away. Let’s get ready for Cincinnati! The 2009 regional conference will provide a forum for wonderful and thought-provoking sessions, lively discussion, and a time to mingle with colleagues. If you know people who are interested in joining the professional field of international education, please encourage them to attend the regional conference. Remember, the region offers students a special rate to attend our conference.

This year at the regional conference, the TLS and IEL knowledge communities are hosting a roundtable discussion session to learn of and address the needs of TLS-KC and IEL-KC constituents in the region. Please feel free to attend this session, if you wish to learn more about the TLS and IEL knowledge communities. The TLS-KC is also hosting the case study competition in addition to conference sessions. I am looking for volunteers to help write the case study as well as serve as judges. Please feel free to contact me should you have questions about the case study competition or would like to help with it.

Several developments are taking place for the TLS-KC. On the national scene, the TLS and IEL knowledge communities are trying to work closer with each other. I am rather excited about this relationship because it should prove to be beneficial to both knowledge communities as well as the overall NAFSA organization. At the national conference held in Los Angeles, representatives from the TLS-KC gathered to discuss ways to improve our visibility to people interested in conducting research on various subjects in international education. If you are thinking about starting a project, but do not have a topic yet, please review the TLS-KC web site for information on hot research topics in the field.

Feel free to contact me with suggestions on how the TLS-KC can best serve your needs at the regional conference. I hope to see you in Cincinnati!

Sincerely,

Kathy Ice-Wedding

Dear KC-ISSS Colleagues,

We are looking forward to seeing you at this year’s Region VI Conference in Cincinnati, Ohio. This will be a great opportunity for discussion among KC-ISSS colleagues as we prepare for the transitions coming up this fall with the implementation of SEVIS II.

If you have not done so already, now is the time to start familiarizing yourself with the changes that will come with the new system and considering how it will affect the business practices of your institution. SEVP has provided numerous resources on SEVIS II, which NAFSA has summarized for you on their SEVIS II page. General SEVIS information as well as Liaison call summaries are also available on the NAFSA website. The Regional conference in November will feature a visit by SEVP officials who will present an update on SEVIS II.

We hope that you are all keeping up with the many resources NAFSA provides to assist us with our work. One such resource we would like to highlight is a Power Point presentation created by the National KC-ISSS team called “The World Comes to Our Campus”. This presentation is available for ISSS professionals to use on their campuses to demonstrate the value of International Student and Scholar Services.

Finally, for most KC-ISSS professionals, our job does not end with immigration advising. We are also concerned with programming which helps our students culturally adjust and integrate into the campus or local community. To keep on board with new developments or discussions in this area please also join the Campus and Community Programming Network if you have not done so already.

We hope all of you have a terrific Fall semester! We’ll see you in November.

Best regards,

From the International Education Leadership Rep:

Greetings, Region VI.

Planning for this year’s International Education Leadership Colloquium is underway. This is a double-session event, separated by a coffee break, that is designed to facilitate information sharing and frank discussion of international education issues. Experienced professionals in the field, as well as mid-career professionals, are invited to attend. If there are specific topics that you would like to see addressed, or if there is a topic you would personally like to present to the group, please contact me or Sue Miller, Past Chair, as soon as possible.

There will be many IEL-related sessions for you to attend in Cincinnati, in addition to the colloquium. As usual, the regional leadership team is designing the conference so that most IEL events will take place within a single day (Monday). This format allows those who are unable to get away from the office for more than a day to get the most they can out of the conference. Also, you are invited to participate in the joint roundtable that the IEL knowledge community is planning with the TLS (Teaching, Learning and Scholarship) knowledge community.

Finally, a reminder that NAFSA offers two IEL-KC professional networks for you to be involved in throughout the year. First, the Senior International Officer network provides a central location for basic information relevant to SIOs, but also assists those who may be new to their positions with the resources necessary to ease the transition. Additionally, the International Education Leadership Development network serves professionals who have substantial experience in the field and seek to continue their professional development through sustaining or advancing their careers. I encourage you to take part in lively discussions and problem-solving with your colleagues by joining either network at http://www.nafsa.org/knowledge_community_network.sec/international_education_4.

Thanks again for your dedication to international education, and I look forward to seeing you in Cincinnati!

Hello EA KC members!

As you know, the last few months have been challenging for many education abroad offices with the outbreak of H1N1 (Swine Flu) and related travel alerts. In April of 2009, the existence of the new H1N1 virus became known and administrators of overseas programs weighed the threat of the illness with the benefits of their programs. With the virus first becoming an issue in Mexico, many programs to Mexico were canceled due to the disease. As the summer wore on and concerns over the virus spread throughout the globe new concerns for study abroad offices developed as students of American institutions were seen as potential vectors for this new illness. This resulted in some students being quarantined (particularly in Asia) when they showed signs of fever or were in contact with someone who had a confirmed case of H1N1. With North America’s fall flu season approaching many campuses are organizing committees and creating plans to handle other H1N1 related issues which may develop in the coming months. Many resources are available on H1N1 to assist institutions in decision making and planning including:

- NAFSA - http://www.nafsa.org/regulatoryinformation/default.aspx?id=9044&terms=h1n1
- Centers for Disease Control - http://www.cdc.gov/h1n1flu/#stay_healthy

Other news in education abroad has been more positive. The House of Representatives passed the legislation which contains the Paul Simon Study Abroad Act in June of 2009. The legislation still needs to pass through the Senate. NAFSA is now encouraging everyone to contact their Senators and encourage them to cosponsor the legislation. Information on how you can write electronic letters to your senators is available here - http://capwiz.com/nafsa/issues/alert/?alertid=12785386&type=CO. For more information on the Simon Study Abroad Act see here - http://www.nafsa.org/public_policy.sec/study_abroad_2/

With these and many other developments and challenges in the coming months, 2009 will continue to be an exciting year in education abroad!

Greetings Region VI!

We hope that you are enjoying the final days of summer and that you are ready to welcome your new international students to campus very soon! As you finalize your plans and travel schedules for the fall, please don’t forget to mark your calendars for our annual Region VI Conference to be held in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The regional conference is a great way to reconnect with colleagues, update your knowledge base, and generate new ideas to take back to your office. We will be offering a variety of RAP-related sessions at the conference on topics such as country-specific credentials, statewide study consortia, Intensive English Programs, working with agents, using technology for international recruitment, and much more!

Several new and updated publications relevant to the RAP community are now available on the NAFSA website. The second edition of Guide to International Student Recruitment includes new information about web and mobile advertising, working with agents, and recruiting for two-year colleges and IEPs. The International Parents’ Guide is a new publication that helps parents to understand the U.S. educational system, student visa process, cultural adjustment, and the student lifestyle. This publication can be purchased in packs of 20 so that you can send it to your admitted international students with their I-20s and letters of admission.

The RAP Knowledge Community Networks also have many useful online resources and free tips for developing your marketing and international recruitment strategies as well. The network discussion forums have also been redesigned for easier usage, so please sign up and share with your colleagues at http://www.nafsa.org/knowledge_community_network.sec/recruitment_admissions/.

We look forward to seeing you in Cincinnati this November!

PRE-CONFERENCE WORKSHOPS

CORE EDUCATION PROGRAMS

F-1 Student Advising for Beginners
Saturday, November 7th
8:00 AM—5:00 PM
$255 Members $435 Non-Members

Audience: F-1 student advisers with less than one year experience

This introductory workshop offers participants the basic knowledge, skills and resources for advising F-1 students on common immigration issues. The workshop first lays out the environment in which the Designated School Official (DSO) works—the federal regulatory and SEVIS structure, the DSO’s own institutional culture, as well as DSO influences and constraints. Using a framework of three F-1 students journeying through their academic program, participants work with the most common student immigration advising and SEVIS scenarios, such as issuing I-20s, applying for a visa, entering the US, SEVIS registration and reporting, maintaining status, employment, travel and reentry, and program extensions. Please note that this workshop does not cover processing of reinstatement, change of status, transfer of SEVIS records, or SEVIS terminations.

Workshop Objectives

- Provide participants with the theoretical and practical knowledge needed for basic F-1 immigration advising, as well as a framework for thinking through a variety of advising situations.
- Offer international student advisers, new to the profession, basic regulatory training.
- Prepare participants to accurately process the immigration forms that their students require to stay in good legal standing.

F-1 Student Advising - Intermediate
Sunday, November 8th
8:00 AM—5:00 PM
$255 Members $435 Non-Members

Audience: Designated School Officials with at least 15 months experience, who have participated in the F-1 Regulations for Beginners workshop, or have received training equivalent to the F-1 Regulations for Beginners workshop.

This intermediate level workshop is designed for Designated School Officials who understand the processes of F-1 student advising and are ready to tackle some of the more complex, or "gray", situations. Participants will discuss a range of case studies on the topics of DSO Responsibilities, Maintenance of Status, Travel, Transfers, Employment, Change of Status, Reinstatement. By addressing these case studies, participants will learn how to advise students when regulations and guidance do not give a clear answer to their situation. Participants should have been in the field for at least 15 months, have participated in the F-1 Regulations for Beginners workshop, or... have received training equivalent to the F-1 Regulations for Beginners. If you are new to the field, in order to receive the maximum benefit from this training, it is recommended that you allow for some time to apply the skills introduced in the F-1 Regulations for Beginners workshop before you attend the Intermediate level workshop.

Workshop Objectives

- Be a self-sufficient adviser by knowing your resources
- Develop interpretations of F-1 regulations and guidance
- Interpret and develop institutional policy
- Learn techniques to advise F-1 students on situations where clear guidance is not available

Fundamentals of Short Term Education Abroad Programming
Sunday, November 8th
8:00 AM—5:00 PM
$255 Members $435 Non-Members

Audience: Designed for professionals new to education abroad and/or short-term programs.

This workshop provides a comprehensive foundation in key aspects of short-term study abroad programming. With an outcomes based perspective, participants will explore “campus cultures” so they can identify and best use internal support systems to design and deliver institution-sponsored short-term programs. Explore a variety of short term program models. Participants will learn the basics of financial management. Tools used in designing successful programs will be shared and participants will learn how to implement action plans, carry out assessment and prepare participants for their time away from campus. This workshop is highly interactive and is designed for professionals new to education abroad and/or short-term programs.

Workshop Objectives

- Develop a clear understanding of ways to use internal support systems in designing faculty-led short-term programs.
- Develop an understanding of short-term program models and be able to determine which of those models best fit the participants’ home institution.
- Develop an understanding of financial management of short-term programs.

- Develop an awareness of the logistical process for operating short-term programs, such as timelines, budgeting, on-site arrangements, and student recruitment.
- Learn strategies to responsibly prepare faculty, staff, and students for the short-term experience.
- Appreciate why assessment is important and to understand the fundamentals of designing an effective assessment plan.

J-1 Regulations for Beginners

Saturday, November 7th

8:00 AM—5:00 PM

$255 Members  $435 Non-Members

Audience: International student advisers working with an existing J-1 program.

This workshop is designed for beginners (up to 15 months). It provides basic information related to the administration of J-1 (exchange visitor) programs and advising J-1 students and scholars. It will provide an overview of U.S. Department of State regulations and cover J eligibility, maintenance of status, extension, transfer, reinstatement and employment. We will NOT provide advanced training or cover requirements specific to trainee, high school, or graduate medical study categories. We also will NOT cover the procedure of obtaining an exchange visitor program designation. Participants should be prepared to take active part in discussions.

Workshop Objectives

- Understand different levels of authority and reliability to J visa regulations
- Understand the difference between J visa type and other visa types
- Understand the eligibility requirements for Exchange Visitor status and identify which category to use
- Understand how to enter a new Exchange Visitor in SEVIS, issue the form DS-2019 and report the arrival of the Exchange Visitor
- Understand key concepts of the immigration system, basic terms and visa application procedures
- Understand the requirements to maintain J status and the responsibilities of the sponsor
- Understand what types of employment are allowed for each category and how to make a preliminary determination
- Understand the administrative requirements of an Exchange Visitor program
J-1 Regulations- Advanced
Sunday, November 8th
8:00 AM—5:00 PM
$255 Members  $435 Non-Members

Audience: Participants should have an intermediate knowledge and understanding of immigration and J visa regulations.

This eight hour workshop will provide Responsible and Alternate Responsible Officers (RO/AROs) with a conceptual foundation, practical knowledge, and skills for advising on J visa regulations. Topics include:

- The roles and responsibilities of the RO/ARO
- Ethical considerations
- The use of resources in problem-solving
- Decision making

This workshop specifically addresses advanced topics that lie in the grey zone for which there are no clear answers. It requires the participant to have an intermediate knowledge and understanding of immigration and J visa procedures. This workshop will not include basic procedural training, the trainee category, or foreign medical graduates.

Workshop Objectives

- Develop conceptual foundation, practical knowledge, and skills for advising on J visa regulations
- Develop critical analytical skills for resolving J student and scholar visa dilemmas
- Exercise creative thinking powers for managing J visa programs
- Establish solid professional networks in the J visa community

PRE-CONFERENCE WORKSHOPS

Academic Ethics Across Cultures
Sunday, November 8th

Audience: All levels of international student advising, admissions, and education abroad professionals

Students traveling across cultures often encounter definitions of ‘cheating’ and ‘plagiarism’ that differ from those of their home cultures, and such confusion can lead them – often unwittingly – to serious academic violations with dire consequences. How do students react to different cultural standards of academic ethics? How can we orient students, faculty, and administrators to prevent crises? What factors should international admissions professionals be aware of in order to make culturally informed decisions on applications? This session will consider actual case studies faced by international student advisors, admissions and education abroad personnel, then introduce tools and resources that educators can use in training students, faculty, and administrators.

Workshop Objectives

- Understand the cultural influences of academic ethics and be aware of specific examples by country/region
- Understand the importance of examining our own concepts of academic ethics and be able to apply techniques for bringing about that same reflection in colleagues and students
- Be able to utilize tools and resources provided for orienting students, faculty and administrators on the topic of academic ethics across cultures in order to prevent cases of academic misconduct among international students and study abroad students
- Understand the challenges surrounding this issue faced by international students in the U.S. and U.S. students abroad and be prepared to assist them in their defense when necessary
- Be familiar with research and publications in the field, and be able to analyze the nuances of cutting edge dilemmas arising from academic ethics across cultures
Region VI invites nominations for the following region specific awards and recognition. Who in the region has inspired you deeply? Carried the banner to champion international education? Impressed you with their fresh energy? This is your opportunity nominate those individuals for recognition. The deadline for all award nominations is day, October 1.

Leo Dowling Award of Excellence

This award honors a Region VI member who has demonstrated the outstanding qualities that distinguished the late Leo R. Dowling of Indiana University, one of the “founding fathers” and an early president of NAFSA. Nominees should possess qualities of compassion, integrity, and leadership. They also must have been members of NAFSA for at least five years and should be associated with an institution or organization that is located in Region VI. Remember, it only takes five years, so use your imagination. Nominees don’t have to be nearing retirement. Nominations can be made by means of a letter describing the nominee and should include the names and e-mail addresses of two other persons who can speak about the nominee’s personal attributes and professional achievements. Please send your nomination to:

Debra Prvanovic
Selection Committee, djlyons18@yahoo.com or deb.lyons@gmail.com

Dorothy Brickman Award for Outstanding New Professional

This award is presented to an outstanding individual who has been in the profession for less than three years. Any nominees must be a member of NAFSA who has made significant contributions to his/her campus, the regional organization, and/or the field of international education. This award is accompanied by a complimentary registration to attend the following year’s regional conference. The purpose behind this award is not only to recognize the achievements of the new professional to date, but to encourage the new professional to remain actively involved in the organization through conference participation. To nominate, please send a written statement which clearly references and addresses the above qualities. Please include the name and contact information of at least one other Region VI member who would be willing to serve as a reference for the nominee. Submit nominations by Monday, October 1 to:

Jennifer Marinello
Region VI Chair
marinello.1@osu.edu
The George Hertrich Advocacy Award

This award was established in 1997 to honor George E. Hertrich. George was a pillar within NAFSA and a true advocate of international education and scholarship, knowledge, exchange through technology and constructive leadership. An integral force at Ohio Dominican College for over 30 years, George earned respect and admiration from students, colleagues and peers. He lived his beliefs and empowered all he met.

The George E. Hertrich Advocacy Award is presented at the Region VI Conference each November.

Nominees should be an active member of NAFSA, demonstrate a willingness to assist colleagues in the field, and advocate the cause of international education within his/her own institution as well as with the greater community.

Submit your nomination to your state representative as follows. A letter of support must accompany the nomination.

Region VI Professional Assistance

Grants Available for Region VI Conference

NAFSANs, are you a Newcomer, Experienced Professional, Community Volunteer, you may be eligible for a Region VI grant award to help with the costs of attending a pre-conference CEP workshop or to attend the regional conference this November. The eligibility criteria are listed below. Please note that there is a limited number of awards available, so apply as early as possible. The deadline for each of these grants is October 1.

Newcomers Travel Grant

Available to newcomers-professionals and community volunteers- in all areas of international education who wish to attend a NAFSA Region VI Conference. Grants of up to $250 will be awarded to offset various conference fees. To be eligible to apply, individuals must be:

- A first-time recipient of a Regional Conference Travel Grant
- A first-time attendee at a regional conference
- A U.S.-based paid professional staff, U.S.-based unpaid volunteer staff, or an undergraduate/graduate student at a U.S. post-secondary institution present at a NAFSA regional conference.

Award preference will be given to applicants residing or working in Region VI.

Submit nominations by October 1 to:
Jennifer Marinello
Region VI Chair
marinello.1@osu.edu

CEP Workshop Travel Grant

Available to professionals and community volunteers in all areas of international education who wish to attend a Core Education Program (CEP) Workshop at the Region VI Conference. Grants of $75 will be awarded to offset CEP Workshop costs. To be eligible to apply, individuals must:

- Be employed full or part-time at a U.S.-based postsecondary institution or organization or be a volunteer with a community organization providing services to international students
- Register for and attend a CEP workshop held in conjunction with the annual regional conference.

Applications will be reviewed by members of the Region VI Team. Travel Grants will be assessed on their stated goals for professional and personal growth in international education, a letter of recommendation from their supervisor, and demonstrated financial need. Due to the large number of applications expected for these programs and the limited number of grants, it is unlikely that more than one applicant from the same institution will receive funding. Preference given to NAFSA members.

Submit nominations by October 1 to:
Jennifer Marinello
Region VI Chair
marinello.1@osu.edu
Experienced Professional Travel Grant

Available to professionals and community volunteers in all areas of international education who wish to attend a NAFSA Region VI Conference. Preference is given to applicants who have also submitted conference session proposals for the same regional conference. Grants of up to $250 will be awarded to offset conference expenses. To be eligible, individuals must:

- Be a member of NAFSA
- Be employed full or part-time at a U.S.-based post-secondary institution or organization in Region VI
- Have more than five years of experience in advising students and/or administering programs in international education.

Volunteers with community organizations providing services to international students are also eligible but must meet NAFSA membership and experience requirements as listed above. Award preference will be given to applicants residing or working in Region VI.

Submit nominations by October 1 to:
Jennifer Marinello
Region VI Chair
JMarinello@fa.adm.ohio-state.edu

Student Presenter Grant

Region VI is pleased to offer five awards of free registration (one-day or two-day, as needed) and $50 to encourage students to propose and present sessions at conferences in Region VI. To be eligible to apply, individuals must:

- Be a current student at a Region VI institution
  * Not currently be a full-time employee at a Region VI institution
- Have submitted a proposal for a regional conference session in which he or she is a chair or primary presenter and have had that proposal accepted. (Students who are part of a session proposed by someone else do not qualify based on that participation.)
- Register for and attend the regional conference

In order to be considered for the grant, the individual must submit the Grant Application form indicating that he/she is a student meeting the specified criteria and naming the session accepted for the regional conference. In addition, the individual must register for and attend the conference. The check will be waiting at the registration table for pick-up by the award winner only.
