International Credentials

AACRAO Electronic Database for Global Education (EDGE), 2008. This is a web-based resource for the evaluation of foreign educational credentials. Ultimately every educational system in the world will be included as an EDGE profile. The database currently includes 135 country profiles, and is being expanded regularly and updated as educational systems change. Each EDGE country profile includes: an overview describing the educational history of the country, an educational ladder or ladders to reflect changes in the educational structure, grading system(s), sample credentials, placement recommendations, a list of postsecondary institutions, resources used to develop the profile, author biography and notes, and a glossary (when applicable).

Commonwealth Universities Yearbook 2007. Compiled for academics, resource managers, students and others seeking comprehensive and reliable data at global level, the ACU Yearbook is a key resource on every aspect of higher education - senior staff, general facilities, degree programs and research strengths - at over 500 universities throughout the Commonwealth. In total, 36 countries are covered in Africa, Asia, Australasia, Europe, Canada and the Caribbean. Association of Commonwealth Universities. £200; 2007. 81st edition, 2,652 pages. http://www.acu.ac.uk/cgi-bin/frameset.pl?ml=yearbook&sl=yearbook&select=yearbook

Foreign Educational Credentials Required. AACRAO International Education Series. $100 nonmember/$75 member; 2003; Item # 9019. Looking for a concise and easily referenced source for information on credentials and other documentation that would be required for entry from a given country to a specified level of study? The fifth edition of Foreign Educational Credentials Required indicates, in a convenient and consistent form, the educational credentials which should be available for applicants from over 220 countries. http://www.aacrao.org/publications/
A Guide to Educational Systems around the World. NAFSA. $19 member/$25 non-member. Now available again as a PDF document on CD, the book compiles information on the educational systems of more than 156 countries, from Albania to Zimbabwe, covering secondary as well as higher education. Articles on the new methodology of credential evaluation, interpreting foreign grades, and using the internet as a research tool provide critical background information for the novice or experienced admissions professional. Shelly Feagle, 1999. 398 pp. This book replaces the Handbook on the Placement of Foreign Graduate Students.

Guide to Higher Education in Africa, 4th Edition. Association of African Universities and International Association of Universities, $115, 2007. The Guide contains details on the educational system of 47 African countries, their institutions of higher education (more than 750 institutions) and, for each country, the national bodies concerned with higher education. The fourth edition of the Guide contains details for 750-plus institutions of higher education, university and non-university level, in 50 African countries. Organized alphabetically by country, each section contains a country profile with a general description of the primary, secondary, and higher education systems; admissions information; grading system; student services; expenses and financial aid; international cooperation and exchanges; national governing bodies; and individual listings of higher education institutions. Each institutional entry includes the institution's name, contact information, website, list of faculties, date founded, degrees and diplomas awarded, academic year, main language of instruction, presence or absence of student residential facilities, number of academic staff, and student numbers.

Higher Education Directory. Higher Education Publications, 2008. The Higher Education Directory is much more than a 1104 page phone book listing who's where, what they do, and how to reach them. It contains standardized profiles on 4,485 institutions giving detailed information on highest offering, accreditations, date established, enrollment, IRS status and much, much more. With 25+ years in the higher education community, Higher Education Publications, Inc. has become the authoritative source for the post-secondary higher education universe. Our extensive prologue contains the latest information on accrediting agencies, institution changes, statewide agencies, higher education associations and consortia, and more. The Higher Education Directory® is the only "official" successor to the U.S. Department of Education's directory that ceased publication in 1984. It is the only source for listing institutions that offer degrees whose accreditations are recognized by the U.S. Secretary of Education and the Council of Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA) approved programs by former COPA and CORPA members. $75. http://www.hepinc.com/hed.htm
The International Credential Assessment Service (ICAS) of Canada Handbook Volume I. The ICAS Handbook is a comprehensive English and French-language guide to the education systems of selected countries. The bilingual guide includes information about the countries’ education systems, including details for qualifications at all levels, and suggests the level of education in Ontario and/or Canada to which credentials obtained in the countries are comparable. Volume I addresses the education systems of China, Romania and Russia. Volume II is currently in production. It will address the education systems of India, Pakistan and Bangladesh. $50. China. (People’s Republic of China)

EDUCATION CREDENTIAL BOOKS AND/OR OFFICIAL WEBSITES:

Chinese Universities and Colleges, 4th edition. Higher Education Press. Compiled by China Education Association for International Exchange It is a comprehensive directory. It lists more than 1000 regular higher education institutions officially recognized by the Ministry of Education of the People's Republic of China. This book contains the most up-to-date information such as addresses, phone numbers, fax numbers, emails and websites. It also includes all information on facilities, libraries, student body, faculty, specialties and programs, specific research institutes and colleges of these respective universities. The book can serve as an invaluable guide for admission officers and directors in the admissions and evaluations process. It is particularly compiled for those overseas higher education institutions that have international students and scholars from the P. R. China, and need to check their previous higher education backgrounds in China. It is a very useful directory for those foreign individuals who desire to find teaching opportunities, and academic programs in Chinese colleges and universities. An index of the school listing in the alphabetical order is also available. A CD-ROM with full information is attached to the book. 2004. $150. The International Credential Assessment Service (ICAS) of Canada Handbook Volume I. The ICAS Handbook is a comprehensive English and French-language guide to the education systems of selected countries. The bilingual guide includes information about the countries’ education systems, including details for qualifications at all levels, and suggests the level of education in Ontario and/or Canada to which credentials obtained in the countries are comparable. Volume I addresses the education systems of China, Romania and Russia. $50. The Bologna Process.

EDUCATION CREDENTIAL BOOKS AND/OR OFFICIAL WEBSITES:

The Impact of Bologna and Three-Year Degrees on U.S. Admissions: A Focus on Europe, Australia, and the United Kingdom. Increasingly, U.S. and other North American graduate and professional schools are finding it necessary to assess their admissions policies regarding international applicants with three-year bachelor's degrees. This monograph captures the presentations and discussions among participants from a November 2006 symposium coordinated by AACRAO in partnership with the Australian Department of Education, Science, and Training; the British Council United States; and the German Academic Exchange Service. The questions and issues raised at the symposium are discussed in this monograph, particularly as they relate to international student mobility; ways in which the adoption of three-year degrees—especially in Europe and Australia—affect U.S. admissions policies and practices; the Bologna Process and Europe's progress toward developing EU-wide three-year degrees.
