Guest Speaker: Immigration Policy in 2018 and Into the Future

Link: <http://bit.ly/2EaBauo>

Thursday, 5/31/2018 | 1:00 PM - 2:00 PM | Room 114

Elections have consequences, and the election of Donald Trump has resulted in significant changes to U.S. immigration policies. Immigration law already gives the executive broad authority to shape immigration policies and priorities, and Congress's inability to pass meaningful immigration reform means the President has been even more central to decision making. The Administration's choices have widely-felt implications for U.S. families, businesses, schools, cities, and states. This session will explore the Trump Administration's re-shaping of immigration policy and its impact.

Chair: Michele Waslin

Notes:

Hot Topics in Advanced Employment-Based Immigration

Link: <https://goo.gl/smwoHz>

Thursday, 5/31/2018 | 2:30 PM - 3:30 PM | Room 108AB

This session provides key updates regarding employment-based immigration, including the latest issues in H-1B visas, PERM, and compliance. The presenters highlight hot topics and share practical guidance on PERM modernization, legislative and regulatory proposals to restrict immigration, prevailing wage issues, site visits, RFE trends, best practices, and compliance.

Chair: Elise Fialkowski
