

New Paths, New Discoveries

BEING IN INDIA has led me down a new path that has exposed me to new people, experiences, and a culture. I have learned so much not only about myself but understanding others of a different culture. This photograph taken in Manali, India, shows my journey into an unknown path but knowing that's its going to be amazing.

YOU'RE INVITED! We invite you to submit your photos along with a brief (approximately 200 words) description of why these images are important in your understanding of a person, place, idea, or incident from your experiences in international education. The photos could be of a simple moment on your home campus involving international students, a major event in an exotic location, or anything in between. The editors of International Educator will run selections on this page throughout the year. Please contact us for submission details at elainal@nafsa.org.
