

Personal Conduct Agreement

1, Student (CIEE Costa Rica: Monteverde Sustainability and the Environment, Spring, 2009)

Print

Close

Every study abroad participant is a registered student at the University of Colorado at Boulder and continues to be subject to university rules and regulations while participating in the study abroad program. The applicable UCB policies include, but are not limited to the following:

Honor Code, available at <http://www.colorado.edu/policies/honor.html>

Student Conduct Policies and Procedures <http://www.colorado.edu/studentaffairs/judicialaffairs/code.html>

Alcohol and Drug Policies http://www.colorado.edu/ralphie/ralphie.cgi?file=a/alcohol_policy.html&num=9&type=alphabetic

Students in study abroad programs also must comply with all applicable laws and policies of the host institution and the host country. Participating students should also remember that they are viewed as representatives of the United States as well as the University of Colorado.

Academic Conduct

In addition to the Student Conduct Policies and Procedures, each participant must follow academic policies outlined in the CU-Boulder Essential Guide to Study Abroad and the program-specific Student Handbook. Both are available at <http://studyabroad.colorado.edu/?go=onceaccepted>.

Each student must also abide by the academic policies of the host university and/or study abroad program provider.

Social Conduct

Information regarding standards of acceptable behavior and conduct in the country(ies) of study is discussed at pre-departure and on-site orientations and in written pre-departure materials. Participants are expected to be familiar with, and abide by, standards of acceptable conduct and to understand that social behaviors acceptable in a U.S. academic setting might be highly objectionable abroad. Behavior which violates those standards could harm the university's and/or program provider's relationship with host country(ies) and institution(s) as well as the participants' own health and personal safety.

Alcohol and Drugs

While studying abroad, participants are expected to adhere to CU-Boulder's Alcohol and Drug Policy. Alcohol and drug policies of the host university and/or study abroad program provider must also be obeyed.

Failure to abide by the conditions or spirit of this agreement may result in dismissal from the program and/or other penalties as outlined in CU-Boulder's Office of International Education Procedures for Handling Disciplinary Action on Study Abroad Programs. These procedures are included in the CU-Boulder Essential

Guide to Study Abroad available at <http://studyabroad.colorado.edu/?go=onceaccepted>.

=====

ONLY FOR STUDENTS UNDER 18 YEARS OF AGE :

Please provide the following information once you have printed the form:

Study Abroad Program: _____
(city, country, & host university)
Term abroad : _____
(e.g., fall 2007)